

Come Alive - Foo Fighters

Seems like only yesterday
Life belonged to runaways
Nothing here to see
No looking back

Every sound monotone
Every color monochrome
Light began to fade
Into the black

Such a simple animal
Sterilized with alcohol
I could hardly
Feel me anymore

Desperate and meaningless
All filled up with emptiness
Felt like everything
Was said and done

I lay there in the dark
And I close my eyes
You saved me the day
You came alive

Still I tried to find my way
Spinning hours into days
Burning like a flame
Behind my eyes

Drown it out, drink it in
Crown the king of suffering
Prisoner; a slave to the disguise

Disappear the only thing
Bittersweet surrendering

Knew that it was time
To say goodbye

I lay there in the dark
And I close my eyes
You saved me the day
You came alive

No reason left me to survive
You saved me the day
You came alive

Come alive [x33]

I lay there in the dark
And I close my eyes
You saved me the day
You came alive

Come alive [x15]

Nothing more to give
I can finally live
Come alive

Your life into me
I can finally breathe
Come alive

I lay there in the dark
Open my eyes
You saved me the day
You came alive

Come alive [x11]
